Fund-A Read: Amy Mays Fundraising Opportunity to Fuel the Love of Literature

I hope this letter finds you in good health and high spirits. I am writing to propose a wonderful opportunity that can enrich the reading culture at your school while promoting a genuine love for reading among your students.

As the author of Through the Eyes of a Child; a series of captivating children's books, I am deeply committed to fostering a passion for reading in young minds. I believe that books have the power to transport children to new worlds, ignite their creativity, and enhance their learning experiences. With this vision in mind, I would like to suggest a book order initiative for your school.

Proposal Highlights:

1. Book Selection: I offer a collection of children's books that cater to the elementary ages and their interests. These books are not only entertaining but also educational, making them a fun and valuable addition to your school's literary resources.

2. Promoting Literacy: By facilitating book orders, we aim to promote literacy by providing students with relatable reading material that complements their reading level. These books can serve as supplementary resources to enhance their reading and comprehension skills.

3. Inspiring a Love for Reading: Reading should be an enjoyable adventure, and my books are designed to do just that. They are filled with engaging stories, vibrant illustrations, and important life lessons that will inspire a lifelong love for reading.

4. Fundraising Potential: In addition to the educational benefits, this initiative can also serve as a fundraising opportunity for your school. A percentage of the proceeds from book orders can be directed back to the school to support educational programs or literacy initiatives.

Logistics: We will provide you with order forms, promotional materials, and support throughout the ordering process. Parents and students can easily place orders, and we will ensure timely delivery to the school.

We are open to discussing any specific arrangements or customization to suit the needs of each individual school.

I am eager to collaborate with you to make this book order initiative a success. To discuss this proposal further or to address any questions you may have, I kindly request the opportunity for a meeting at your earliest convenience. Please feel free to contact me at 780-625-2766 or authoramymay@hotmail.com to arrange a suitable time.

Thank you for considering this proposal. Together, we can ignite the love for reading in the hearts of students and contribute positively to their educational journey.

Sincerely,

Amy May, Robinson
